Program overview:

Corporate law or company law often describes the law relating to matters which derive directly from the life-cycle of a corporation. It thus encompasses the formation, funding, governance, and death of a corporation. Corporate law regulates how organizations, investors, shareholders, directors, employees, creditors, and other stakeholders such as consumers, the community and the environment interact with one another.

This workshop course is design to help participants to understand essential elements of company law and give them a practical appreciation of how companies should be run and managed.

For whom:

This program is designed for Legal Officers, Heads of Legal Teams and Lawyers in organizations, Lawyers in Banks, Insurance Companies, Mortgage Institutions, Regulatory Agencies, Company Secretaries, Legal Advisers, Administrative Officers in Government Ministries and Parastatals, Law Enforcement Officials, Administrative Officers in private organizations and companies, as well as other interested participants.

Learning objectives:

At the end of the program, participants will be able to:

- learn the basics of what companies are and how they are formed and run;
- discuss the foundations of company law (Companies and Allied Matters Act 1990);
